

LeanKanban
UNIVERSITY

edu.leankanban.com

Who Should Be a KCP?

- Kanban practitioners
- Consultants
- Coaches
- Change agents and managers
- Anyone who wants to be recognized for their expertise in using the Kanban Method

Program Benefits

- Authorization to use the KCP letters and badging
- Recognition on the Lean Kanban University website Coaches directory
- Access to private KCP-only forums for professional collaboration
- Invitations to exclusive events worldwide plus participation in Ask a KCP coaching sessions
- Communicates to employers and clients advanced qualification in coaching with Kanban
- Eligibility for Enterprise Services Planning Trainer (ESPT) status – other requirements apply

For more information contact

info@leankanban.com

Be a KCP

Kanban Coaching Professional

Professional designation from Lean Kanban University

“I now have a different lens to view my team’s upstream work, current work in progress, and deeper knowledge on how to communicate risk without disrupting the flow of changes throughout the organization.”

The Kanban Coaching Professional program offers a professional designation for people coaching Kanban for organizations. The coaches may be embedded within organizations or they may be independent consultants.

Kanban Coaching Professionals (KCP) are recognized and endorsed by Lean Kanban University as highly qualified to help organizations apply the Kanban Method for greater success.

KCPs successfully coach change initiatives for improved service delivery using the Kanban approach.

Qualify to be a Kanban Coaching Professional

A KCP must satisfy all of the following requirements:

5-day LKU certified Kanban Coaching Professional Masterclass (or Change Leadership Masterclass + any Enterprise Services Planning class)

6 months verified experience in a Kanban initiative

Written essay submission

Kanban Management Professional (KMP) status

KCP Panel interview

Annual program fee